

VOL. 11, NO. 214.

CONNELLVILLE, PA., MONDAY EVENING, JULY 21, 1913.

EIGHT PAGES.

DUMMY AND FROCK REPORTED BACK IN DEMOCRATIC FOLD*Everything was Harmonious at Uniontown on Saturday.*NO OPPOSITION TO STERLING*But the Insurgents Don't Stand With the Old-Time Democrats and They Won't Face Well at Their Hands.
Party Harmony on Surface Only.

The unanimous re-election on Saturday of Bruce Sterling as Chairman of the Fayette County Democratic Committee, in the face of the fact that opposition of a strenuous and perhaps of a strong character was rumored up to the very day of the committee meeting was a surprise to the great body of the uninitiated. It is learned, however, that the cause of the compromise was a surprise to the great body of the uninitiated. It is learned, however, that the cause of the compromise was a surprise to the great body of the uninitiated.

The compromise, however, is not wholly satisfactory to the rank and file of the party notwithstanding the evident political wisdom in other words, while it may be something to the one per centum of the Democrats who hold or have hopes of getting office it isn't much to the ninety-nine per centum who have no ambitions and no expectations in this line. The sentiment, strange to say, is strongest among the strict organization men, particularly old-time Democrats who have no objection to a lively primary scrap, but who have no use for a member of the party who does not live up to the general election. One of them expressed himself as follows:

"It may be all right for Judge Gabel and Chairman Sterling to compromise with Dumbauld and Frock, but if they are promising either of them anything that the voters are expected to deliver later on they are promising without authority. The party has done pretty well by both Dumbauld and Frock, and especially Frock, and when they opened up the judicial campaign and tried to discredit Gabel and Sterling they dealt the Democratic party a staggering blow."

"There was money used in the judicial election. Everybody in politics and plenty of other people who are not new to this at the time; and what's more, they knew that the same money, perhaps not of exactly the same grade, but big enough anyhow, was promised in other campaigns by other Democrats. Frock has frequently been a candidate and chairman himself. He is not ignorant of Fayette county political methods. This is not charging anything with doing anything unlawful. There's been too much of that in the party now. What's more, I'm for harmony, too. But take it from me, the Democrats of Fayette county are not going to pin any gold medals on the fellows who do not get out of circulation into their private quarrels."

MARITAL MIXUPS*Two Uniontown Women Figure in the News of the Day.

Two Uniontown women figure in the matrimonial mixup which have become a part of the news of the day. In Atlanta, Ga., a fight is being made over the $250,000 estate of John B. Crawford, who died under suspicious circumstances. The validity of Mrs. Mary Belle Crawford's divorce from a former husband is attacked. Mrs. Crawford was formerly Mary Belle Savage of Uniontown, and obtained a divorce from William H. Crawford on the grounds of desertion. Mrs. Crawford is now out on bail to answer the charge of murdering her husband.

GEORGE BELTZ DIES.*Second Victim of Automobile Accident on July 15.

George Beltz, 30 years old, of Pittsburg, who was injured in an automobile accident July 15, died Saturday afternoon in the Mercy Hospital, Pittsburg. Charles I. Neff died a few hours after the accident.

Mr. Beltz was a Pittsburg & Lake Erie passenger brakeman and was a former employee of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. He was well known among Connellsville railroad men.

Dr. Churchill Operated On.
Dr. W. J. Churchill underwent an operation this morning at the McKeesport Hospital. Dr. A. J. Colborn assisted.

KIDNAPS A COP WHO TRIES TO PLACE HIM UNDER ARREST*"Sassy John," a Foreigner, Walks Off
With Diminutive Patrolman,
But Is Captured.

"Sassy John" Kovoski, as he is known among residents of the community in which he resides at Uniontown, started to walk away with a portion of the police force Sunday evening, and would have accomplished his purpose had it not been for the quick work of P. M. Richey.

"Sassy John" was standing in one of the Main street doorways at the foot of the West Side hill, when Patrolman Stump ordered him to stand out on the curb. John objected, and when the little cop endeavored to push him out of the doorway, Kovoski caught him by the coat collar and man and started to take Stump home.

The performance was witnessed by Mr. Richey. He ran his auto across to river to City Hall to secure reinforcements. Patrolman John Barnes responded and arrived on the scene in time to assist Stump in his predicament. Stump displayed great forbearance by not using his mace on the prisoner.

The performance was witnessed by Mr. Richey. He ran his auto across to river to City Hall to secure reinforcements. Patrolman John Barnes responded and arrived on the scene in time to assist Stump in his predicament. Stump displayed great forbearance by not using his mace on the prisoner.

IN POLICE COURT*Three Offenders Are Lined Up Before Burgess Evans.

The police court was quiet this morning, only three prisoners being tried before Burgess Evans, Jerry Elzeck was arrested for drunkenness and was given 72 hours. John Gukky, a Latrobe miner, was arrested for drunkenness. When taken in he was sleeping in a basement on the West Side and told the officer he could not sleep good because someone was always talking in his ear. Gukky said that he was going to Pittsboro and was discharged.

Thomas Schimly of Ulen No. 1 was given a hearing for drunkenness, interfering and resisting arrest. When Policeman Stump attempted to arrest John Speckock yesterday, Schimly interfered. Policeman Barnes was called and the pair were locked up. Schimly was given 5 days and Speckock gave $10 forfeit.

WILL HE HOLD JOB?*For Six Years as Bartender He Gets a Quarter Million.

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Edward Muehl, an American-born German of this city, who is summing up as a bartender at a prominent Delaware Water Gap Hotel, has just fallen heir to $250,000 from an eccentric German uncle, who takes upon him the most tantalizing conditions. Muehl is now 24 years old and when he is 30 he will come in possession of the principal sum. "Providing he stays continuously employed at a position he occupies when he learns that he is heir to my fortune," the will reads. Hence he must continue to dispense Scotch highballs for the next six years to become a wealthy man.

To appease the nephew the uncle provides that he may receive an income of $5,000 each year until he reaches the age of 30.

BLAME DANIELS.*Seattle Socialists Denounce Navy Secretary's Fery Speech.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 21.—The socialists of Seattle today forwarded to the United States Navy Secretary a protest against the blame for the recent disorders in which sailors attacked socialists and members of the Industrial Workers of the World, on Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

If it had not been for the recent speech made by Daniels, the disorders would never have occurred, contend the socialists.

FOREIGNER RAYS.*Contributes to Cash in Surety of Peace Prosecution.

George Volk of Banning was given a hearing this morning before Squire P. M. Buttermore of the West Side, on a charge of surety of the peace made by John Lesko. Volk threatened to chop Lesko's wife's head off, it was alleged.

Volk was arrested this morning by Constable William Roland of Dunbar township. The case was settled by the defendant paying the costs.

AFTER BEGGARS.*Chief Hietel Proposes to Bid Town of Them in Short Order.

Chief of Police Hietel declared today that steps will be taken at once to put a curb on the beggars that are becoming perniciously active. Reports of annoyance by mendicants have been frequent of late.

In addition to the usual run of beggars who pick a soft spot on the pavements and peddle pencils, the front and back door visitors have been noticeably on the job of late.

SUES ESTATE FOR $5,000.

UNIONTOWN, July 21.—Frank Mantel of Connellsville, this morning filed suit against Dr. T. B. Eohard and W. A. Bishop of Connellsville, executors of the estate of the late Alexander B. Morton of Connellsville, for $5,000 due May 29, 1911, on a promissory note to be paid 90 days after the death of Mr. Morton.

Giovannetti to Speak.

Arturo Giovannetti, Industrial Worker of the World, leader, who gained notoriety during the Lawrence, Mass., mill strike, will speak at Shady Grove tonight.

Turks Regain Adrianople.

LONDON, July 21.—The Evening Standard tonight publishes a dispatch from Sofia to the effect that the Turks have entered Adrianople.

PRIZES ARRANGED FOR UNION PICNIC
AT OAKFORD PARK*Long List of Events Arranged to Keep Everyone
Amused.*BASEBALL GAME A FEATURE*Clerks of Main and Pittsburg Streets
Will Battle for Supremacy; Prizes
Will be Placed on Exhibition Beginning Wednesday; Expect Crowd.

There is every indication that the on Sunday school picnic out at Oakford Park on July 31 will rival the merchants' picnic of years gone by in point of numbers. The West Side is arranging to handle the largest crowd ever taken to Oakford Park from Connellsville. With virtually all of the stores closing on that day, there will be a big outpouring of people. The fact that the Connellsville Auto Club is to hold its club run that day, and wind up at Oakford, is adding interest to the event.

The committee consisting of D. H. Pick, G. C. Leaphin, G. O. Osterwiese, Ralph Ward and J. E. McGinnis has succeeded in arranging a good prize list. The merchants and business men have responded liberally to the request for prizes, and these will be put on display Wednesday on Main street. The program of sports and prizes is as follows:

Ball Throwing Contest. First—Diamond Lavelle. Second—Slippers. Third—Box candy.

Boys' Relay Race. First—Watermelon. Second—Watermelon. Third—Watermelon.

100 Yard Dash for Married Women. First—Rocky. Second—Dish. Third—Margarine. First—Box Candy. Second—Slippers. Third—Flour.

Ball Throwing Contest. First—Jewel Case. Second—Box Candy. Third—Mexican Drawn Work Scarf.

Shot Put for Men. First—Box Toleproof. Second—Pocketbook. Third—Book.

100 Yard Backward Dash. First—Flash Light. Second—Ball Glove. Third—Boys' Cap.

100 Yard Dash for Married Women. First—Rocky. Second—Dish. Third—Margarine. First—Box Candy. Second—Slippers. Third—Flour.

Boys' Shoe Race. First—Scout's Shoes. Second—Watch. Third—Baseball Bat. Fourth—Cap.

Quilt Contest. First—Box Half Tote. Second—Penknife. Third—Tug of War. First—Box Tote. Second—Box Tote.

100 Yard Dash for Girls. First—Towel. Second—Jewel Case. Third—Pair Kid Gloves.

Standing Broad Jump. First—Genuine Leather. Second—Flash Light. Third—Safety Razor.

Running Broad Jump. First—Fountain Pen. Second—Ball Brush. Third—Cabinet. Fourth—Suspenders.

Baseball Game. Pittsburg Street vs. Main Street. Prizes for boys and girls. Prizes for boys and girls.

GAS WASTE STOPPED*Bureau of Mines Men Perform Notable Feat in Oklahoma.

A notable demonstration of conserving the mineral resources of the country has just been accomplished in Oklahoma by A. G. Hozgen, a Pittsburg man, and A. J. Pollard of California, associated with him as an oil expert in the United States Bureau of Mines.

By a series of remarkable experiments Mr. Hozgen has succeeded in stopping the waste of more than 150,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas daily, the annual saving in dollars being estimated at $13,000,000. With a like saving in the gas producing states of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia the total would take a goodly slice off the national debt or go a long way toward making the American navy a sea power.

FRICK PRIZE WINNERS*Garden and Truck Awards Made at Fifth Plants.

The annual garden and truck prizes have been awarded at the F. C. Frick Coke Company's Fifth plant, where F. J. Locke is the superintendent. First prizes were $10, second $5, and third $2. The awards were as follows:

Gardens—First, house No. 55, Andy Washock; second, house No. 33, John Kutak; third, house No. 17, Alvin Frances.

Lawns—First, house No. 2, H. L. Wilkinson; second, John Nebrasky, Sr.; third, No. 1, Joe Bonhosky.

Former Neeshen Dies.
George W. Shaw, a former well known resident of Connellsville and a former county commissioner of Fayette, died Friday at Monessen. Mr. Shaw was a shoemaker in Connellsville for a number of years. He was 73 years old.

To Speak in Westmoreland.
Senator Pearce will speak in Westmoreland county on August 6. The senator has planned an extensive speaking tour as a part of his campaign for re-election to the Senate.

FIREMEN WORKING HARD TO GET CONVENTION HERE IN '14*Volunteers Will Take Big Delegation and the Band to Punkstowney Next Month.

The convention of the Western Pennsylvania Volunteer Firemen's Association, which this year is to convene at Punks-towney in August, in all probability will be held here in 1914. The Connellsville firemen are making every effort to bring it here.

Various means have been taken by the firemen to raise the necessary funds. The support of the Chamber of Commerce has been secured, a carnival was held early in the season, and last week the moving picture houses gave a portion of one day's receipts to swell the fund.

Besides the members of the fire company, the Connellsville Military Band will be present. The convention to assist the firemen in making a successful bid. Bandmaster John Gaster has ordered new uniforms of white material, which his men will wear for the first time at Punks-towney. They are expected to arrive here with the band.

Several of the Western Pennsylvania companies favor Connellsville. That Connellsville can secure the convention next year there is little doubt. Being located on four railroads, transportation facilities are the best, and the hotel accommodations are splendid.

Various publicity schemes for use at Punks-towney are being considered. Plans to have such delegates wear badges with the inscription, "Connellsville in 1914," and to hang big banners across the streets of the town are being discussed.

SOCIETY GOSSIPS BUSY*Has Mrs. Phipps Married Again, or Is She About To?

Uniontown Telegram.
BOSTON, July 21.—Whether Mrs. Jean Chandler Phipps, second divorced wife of Lawrence Phipps, the Pittsburgh steel magnate, has married again or whether she is about to be married is a question that is puzzling society here today.

When Mrs. Phipps arrived in Boston on the steamer Cleveland, she registered at a local hotel, and there is some mystery as to the identity of the man who left the same ship and registered at the hotel with her. On the passenger list his name was given as E. W. Porter of Denver, but passengers say he is Edward B. Powell of Denver.

If Mrs. Phipps remarries, she will forfeit the income of $500,000, which was granted by her husband, at the time of his death. The divorce does not remove the Phipps were divorced in 1904.

NO HOT WAVE THIS WEEK*Weather Bureau Predicts Moderate Temperatures.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—No hot wave is looked for by the Weather Bureau. "This present pressure distribution over the northern hemisphere," said the weekly bulletin, "appears favorable for the prevalence of moderate, or at least not unusually high temperatures over the greater portion of the country during the coming week. Over the south and southwest temperatures will probably be high at times, but not so high as during the week ending July 14."

As to the precipitation prospects are not very favorable, and generally fair weather may be expected over all sections except the south Atlantic and east Gulf states where occasional thunder showers are likely to occur. There are no indications of a West Indian disturbance.

Water Supply Permits.

The State Water Supply Commission has granted permission for the erection of a bridge across the Monongahela river at Connellsville. At the same time permission was granted the Consolidated Connellsville and the Bessemer coke companies to wall Cat's run in this county.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight and slightly warmer in the northern portion; Tuesday fair and warmer is the noon weather forecast.

Temperature Record.
Maximum ..... 82 88
Minimum ..... 58 65
Mean ..... 70 76
The Young river fell during the night from 2.30 to 2.10.

TWELVE FLEE FROM BURNING BUILDING
IN NIGHT CLOTHING*Fire in Cellar of Feher Building Fills Rooms With Smoke.*CALLBOY DISCOVERS THE BLAZE*Awakens Occupants and Then Sends in Alarm; Small Damage Done by Fire Believed to Have Been of Incidental Origin; Traces of Kerosene

Fire, believed to have been of incidental origin, drove the occupants of the Feher building, corner of Water and Peach streets, to the street in their night clothes early this morning. The blaze was discovered at 2:15 o'clock by a call boy of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. The lad noticed smoke pouring out of the basement of the Feher building. He aroused the occupants, all of whom were sleeping on the second floor, and then sent in an alarm to the fire company.

When Chief John Haddock and his men arrived, the frame building was enveloped in smoke. Fortunately, however, the fire was confined to the cellar, where it smoldered until extinguished by a double stream of water.

An examination made this morning by Chief Haddock indicated that an effort had been made to destroy the building. A barrel that originally contained paint had been filled with oil-soaked papers. The odor of kerosene permeated the place.

Joe Richey, proprietor of a confectionery and fruit store on the first floor, was unable to account for the presence of the barrel in the cellar. He stated that as he does not handle kerosene, he would have no use for it. Joe Richey, a brother, Richard Richey, and a sister, Anna Richey, slept in rooms at the front part of the second story. This room is occupied by Mrs. Anna Feher, owner of the building, and her family, members of which are Joseph, Anna, Margaret, Victor and Mrs. Arnold Wesley and three small children.

Victor, the alarm was sounded. Richard Richey attempted to jump from a second story window, but was stopped by the warning cry of one of the policemen who noticed his intention. The damage was small.

BULLSKIN TEACHERS*Corps is Selected at Meeting of the Board on Saturday.

At a meeting of the Bullskin township school board held Saturday the following teachers for the ensuing term were elected, as follows:

Franklin, Eva Adams; Stouffer, John; Belling, Johnson No. 1, Jessie Reagan; Johnson No. 2, Twila Brooks; Johnson No. 3, M. C. Switzer; Rice, G. W. Gans; Edgewood, Edna Spang; Kell, Anna Wood; Pennsville No. 1, Lulu Longenecker; Pennsville No. 2, Edward Dick; Hault, Maud Lyons. Southwood, Emma Glenora; Rich Hill, C. Geary; Effmore, Nora Dettler; Mud, Lillian Mistlebauer; Bear Rock, Katie Clark; Geary, Myrtle; Hault, Maud Lyons; Cross Roads, Ellsworth Dick; Pleasant Valley, Wills Glassburn; Bellview, Maud Glassburn; Bridgeport, W. E. Miller.

GOES TO HOSPITAL.

Triump Falls from a Box Car and Dismembered Hip.

Jacob Smoot, while asleep on a box car, was arrested yesterday morning by Officer M. F. Wilhere and committed to the police station. He was drunk.

His companion, Jacob Kilburn, was found at Greene Junction and brought to Connellsville and admitted to the Cottage State Hospital. He fell from a box car and suffered a dislocated hip. Kilburn is 35 years old and resides at Full River, Mass.

HOUSE IS RAIDED.

Cops Get Five on the West Side;
Post Forfeits.

Chief of Police George Hietel and Patrolman McDonald and Barnes raided a disorderly house on First street, West Side, last night. Five occupants of the place were arrested, and at city hall deposited forfeits for their appearance before the burgess for hearings.

Residents of the neighborhood have been complaining of the place for some time, and the raid last night was the result.

LABOR DAY CELEBRATION.*Uniontown Prepares for a Big Time on September 1.

Uniontown will celebrate Labor Day on September 1 for the first time in nine years. Arrangements are already under way to have the forces of labor in Fayette county on hand en masse.

Connellsville will be invited to take a prominent part in the day's festivities, and the unions all over the county are expected to participate.

Meeting is Postponed.
The special meeting of the Perry township school board which was to have been held Saturday night to elect a high school principal was postponed until next Saturday night.

Immigrants Go West.

A train of immigrants went west on Saturday.

PENNSY FREIGHT JUMPS THE TRACK; CREW IS NOT HURT*Three Coke Cars and the Caboose
Leave the Rails; Passenger Trains Not Delayed.

One hundred action hands are repairing the damage done the Connellsville passenger station, when a Pennsylvania railroad coke train was wrecked early this morning. The wreck occurred at 2:15 o'clock, when the third coke car from the rear left the rails in front of the depot, ran along the ties for 300 yards, split a switch and pulled two other cars and the caboose from the rails. The car next to the caboose turned over on its side and the caboose toppled over.

Riding in the caboose at the time were Conductor George Miner, who was substituting on the run for the Connellsville passenger station, J. E. Calhoun and Brakeman Daniel Pileman. They were slightly bruised. Engineer George Woody was running the train.

The train was northbound. When it reached Connellsville, Engineer Woody was hauling 23 loads, and was making fair time. Conductor Miner sent a hurry up call to Youngwood, and at 4:15 A. M. the wrecking train was on the scene. They had the track cleared shortly after 6 o'clock, and passenger train No. 191 from Uniontown to Pittsburg was able to go through on schedule time.

The most damage that occurred was to the ties and track. It was necessary to replace one of the switches with straight rails at a temporary expedient, and to renew several of the ties. It is expected that all of the damaged ties will be replaced before daylight.

NURSED WATSON BOOM*Manufacturers Planned to Make Indiana Man President.*United Press Telegram.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—That the National Association of Manufacturers had planned to elect James G. Watson, governor of Indiana in 1908 and in four years groom him for President, was shown this morning in a letter read before the Senate lobby investigating committee.

The letter was written to Colonel M. M. Mulhall by Secretary of the Association, F. C. Schedtmayr, who wrote: "I believe the time is coming when we can rally around our friend, James G. Watson, for President, as we are now rallying around him in his fight for the governorship. We need a man of his type—a man not ashamed of his friends because they are respectable people."

DEATHS ON RAILROADS*Many Fatalities and Injuries in First Half of Year.

HARRISBURG, July 21.—According to reports received by the State Railroad Commission, 534 people were killed on the steam railroads of the state during the first half of the present year and 5,750 were injured. During the same period of last year 519 were killed and 4,590 were injured. The fatalities during the last six months included 154 employees, 10 passengers, 31 trespassers and 54 persons killed while crossing the tracks.

On the street railways during the first six months of this year, 93 were killed and 1,641 injured. During the same period of last year 85 were killed and 1,384 injured. The fatalities during the last six months included 21 employees, nine passengers, 12 trespassers and 66 others.

DYING FROM INJURIES.*Pittsburg Man Fatally Hurt in an Auto Smash.

ALTOONA, July 21.—A man named Smith, member of the firm of McGinnis & Smith, heater manufacturers of Pittsburg, is in the Altoona Hospital suffering from injuries that are believed will prove fatal.

Smith was driving an automobile owned by Dr. C. Taggart of Pittsburg, when the machine collided with an automobile driven by John Morris of Johnstown. The Taggart car was thrown over a high embankment. Two others were hurt, but not seriously.

THIEVES ARE BUSY.*Two Homes Entered and Small Booty is Taken.

Refrigerator thieves were active on West Peach street yesterday afternoon. While the family of W. F. Soltsman were on the front porch, the house was entered and ransacked for food.

The home of James B. Stader on Cedar avenue, was entered Saturday night, by persons believed to have been tramps looking for food. A pocketbook belonging to Mrs. Stader, which contained some small change and a few stamps, was taken. Entrance was gained through the cellar.

HUERTA REIGN TOTTERS.*State Department Believes Mexican Government Will be Overthrown.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Confidential advices received by the State Department lead to the belief in diplomatic circles that the Huerta government in Mexico is tottering.

Governor Carranza of Chihuahua, and Governor Pasquira of Sonora are advancing, and it has been learned that many of Huerta's best supporters have

Turkey Wants a Share.

LONDON, July 21.—The Sublime Porte, following announcement of the capture of Adrianople by Turkey, this morning sent a note to the powers announcing Turkey's intention of participating in the approaching peace conference of the Balkan states.

COWS DERAIL A CAR;
MOTORMAN KILLED,
CONDUCTOR IS HURT*West Penn Accident Near Brownsville Proves
Fatal.*THREE ANIMALS ARE KILLED*Screened by a Curve, Motorman
Nicholson Does Not See Them Until It Is Too Late to Stop; Connellsville Conductor Fatally Injured.

An investigation is being made today by Superintendent of Transportation M. A. Coffee and Division Superintendent W. F. Long of Uniontown into the cause of the wreck on the grade above Merittstown station, near Brownsville, Saturday evening, as a result of which one man is dead and another is suffering with severe injuries. A number of passengers on the car were slightly cut and bruised by particles of flying glass.

W. T. Nicholson of Uniontown, the motorman, sustained a fractured skull and internal injuries, and died in the Uniontown Hospital. J. T. Laughrey of Connellsville, a conductor, received several fractured ribs and internal injuries, but will recover.

The accident occurred on one of the company's private right-of-way at 5:13 o'clock. The car was due in Brownsville at 5:30, and was making fair time when it collided with a herd of cows.

Screened by a curve, the animals were not seen by Nicholson until it was too late to stop the car. Two of the cows were directly across the tracks, and when they were struck, the front trucks left the rails. A short distance on, a third cow was struck and Nicholson thrown from the car. The rear trucks remained on the track, preventing the car from turning over. The cows were dragged 200 feet. All three of them were killed.

Nicholson was unconscious when picked up by passengers. He was taken to Uniontown, where death occurred at an early hour Sunday morning before he regained consciousness.

Conductor Laughrey was injured when he was thrown against the seas of the car. He was given preliminary treatment by physicians sent to the scene in a special car from Uniontown, and was then brought to his home here. He resides on the South Side. He will recover.

None of the passengers was seriously injured. A few of them were slightly bruised and cut by flying glass.

W. T. Nicholson was born in Springfield township on March 21, 1883, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Nicholson. In 1908 he entered the employ of the West Penn as a motorman, and continued serving in that capacity until his death. He is survived by

SOCIETY.

Miscellaneous Shower.
Mrs. George Herschberger was hostess at a miscellaneous shower Friday evening at her home at Ohlappes in honor of Miss Bertha Chick, the fiancée of Rev. G. C. Dean of Wheeling, W. Va. About 30 guests were present and spent a delightful evening at various amusements. A well appointed luncheon was served. A pink and white color scheme prevailed. In the center of the table was a basket of hollyhocks tied with white ribbon. The place cards were hearts and sweet peas tied with pink ribbon. Following the luncheon the guests adjourned to the library where the many gifts were opened by Miss Chick. The out of town guests were Mrs. A. K. Oubert of Fairchance; Miss Elizabeth Aubrey of Chicago; Miss Velta, Pittsburgh; Miss Ida Sipe, Mill Run; Miss Lillian Mitchell, and Mrs. Ida Kiehl of East Pittsburgh.

Hebrew Debate.
The first of a series of entertainments arranged by the young Men's Hebrew Association was held Saturday in the Grand Theatre. A feature was a debate, resolved, that the State of California is justified in excluding the Japanese Land Ownership. Excellent points were brought up and thoroughly discussed by the debaters who were affirmative, Oscar Silverman and Jack Horowitz; negative, Lewis Gordin and S. E. Oppenheimer. The judges, Mr. Hays, Attorney L. Goodstein and Miss Sarah Rubin, gave their decision in favor of the affirmative. Music was rendered by Isadore Horwitz and Miss Ruth Newberg. An oration was given by Miss Gordin. There was a large attendance and the program was greatly enjoyed. The club will give a lecture in about three weeks.

W. A. Ellis Class to Meet.
The regular meeting of the W. A. Ellis Bible class will be held Friday at the home of T. J. Hooper on Sixth street, West Side.

Plains Camp Dinner.
Secretary E. T. Ueber is endeavoring to arrange a dinner for the members of the committees of the W. A. C. A. at the camp at South Conneltsville tomorrow night.

Lawn Fete.
The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian Church will give a lawn fete on the new church grounds on the corner of Green and South Pittsburgh streets Thursday evening. If it should rain it will be held in the lobby of the Colonial Theatre.

Program and Social Meeting.
The Woman's Missionary Society of the United Brethren Church will hold a program and social meeting tomorrow evening in the church. In addition to the program a report of the convention held in Greensburg will be given. A special invitation is extended to the Otterbein Guild and all members and friends of the congregation.

M. E. C. Club to Meet.
Mrs. James Cowell will entertain the M. E. C. Fancy Work Club tomorrow evening.

K. D. to Meet.
The King's Daughters of the Trinity Lutheran Church will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. C. E. Buttermore on East Conneltsville.

Attorneys at Bridge.
Mrs. C. D. Schell was hostess at bridge Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. C. S. Hyatt of New Castle, and Mrs. O. Miller of Edgewood, the guests of Mrs. E. T. Norton at "Windymere." Four tables were in play and at the close of the game luncheon was served.

URGENT PROTECTION.

Senator Burton of Ohio Attacks Dem.
Came First Telegram.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Predicting the failure of the Democratic tariff bill insofar as it may be expected to reduce the high cost of living, Senator Burton of Ohio, this morning discussed the theory of protection and free trade.

Burton argued that while protection must not be maintained as a fetish, it must be continued as a national policy as long as the resources of the country remain undeveloped, and as long as other countries deny the United States the right of free trade.

Sweetest Thing in the World is a baby, yet how many women are denied this blessing because of some physical ailment which may be curable. It has been said that hundreds of children owe their existence to Lydia's Pinkettes. Vegetable Compound, which we believe has brought health and happiness to more women in this fair land of ours than any other remedy.—Ad v.

Innervation at St. James.
Four new members of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Adelphi and five from the Cochran Memorial Church at Dawson, were innervated yesterday afternoon in the swimming pool at Saint James Park near Dawson by Rev. H. A. Batim, pastor of the two churches.

Illness Proves Fatal.
John Andreacchio of Star Junction, died Saturday at the Cottage State Hospital. He was taken ill at the Baltimore & Ohio station here as he was about to leave for the old country. The interment was made today at Perryopolis.

Short Time for Shops.
Because of the retrenchment policy of the Baltimore & Ohio, the shops here are working on short time. Only two days will be made this week. The July appropriation is about exhausted.

Taxidermy Service Resumed.
Taxidermy service in town has been resumed. Smith Grimm, the West Side liverman has gone into the business. He will have cars at the stations to meet every train.

Arrest Mrs. Fankhurst.
LONDON, July 21.—Mrs. Emma Fankhurst was re-arrested this morning as she was on her way to attend the weekly meeting of suffragets.

Engineers at Bellefonte.
T. B. Gibson and engineers from the South Penn Engineering Company are in North Bellefonte establishing street grades.

Until a short time ago, scarcely one person in a thousand had ever tasted a really good soda cracker—as it came fresh and crisp from the oven.

Now everybody can know and enjoy the crisp goodness of fresh baked soda crackers without going to the baker's oven.

Unneeded Biscuit bring the bakery to you.

A food to live on. Stamina for workers. Strength for the delicate. Give them to the little folks.

Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

DISCUSS AGRICULTURE

Fayette Farmers Also Plan for Their Annual Picnic.

Arrangements for the annual picnic was made at the regular meeting of the Union Farmers Club Saturday at the home of E. R. Arnold near Vandergrift. About 40 club members attended. The picnic will be held Saturday, August 15 in Humbert's grove near Uniontown and from Indianapolis the outfit promises to be the largest and best ever held.

Following the business meeting the subject for study, "Agriculture," was taken up and discussed at length. Among the speakers were W. E. Severance, John T. Smith and David Junk. Readings were given by Mrs. E. R. Arnold, Mrs. John T. Smith and A. G. F. Junk. Walter Bryson recited. At noon an elaborate dinner was served.

BOY SCOUTS AT SHADY.

Lewistown Band Performs Large Group at Popular Park.

The Boy Scouts Band of Lewistown was at Shady Grove yesterday and gave several concerts to the delight of the big crowds that gathered both in the afternoon and evening.

The Boy Scouts spent Saturday night at Shady Grove and were about the park all day.

This evening the Conneltsville Military Band will give a concert and dance at Shady Grove. Miss Lodieth Lattin will be the soloist. John Gauder will direct the band and an excellent program has been arranged. The band boys are raising a fund to attend the Pennsylvania Bremen's convention.

NOT GOING WITH FIRM.

Feldstein States that He Will Not be Associated With Silverman.

M. H. Feldstein, who expects to again locate in Conneltsville in the near future, stated this morning that he has no intention of becoming associated with S. Silverman, who contemplates opening a store here in the Titus & Trust building next fall.

The announcement was made some weeks ago that Feldstein would be interested in Silverman's venture. Upon his return to town Mr. Feldstein declared that such is not the case.

An Interesting Game.

There is always an interest in watching a process of vital importance. One of the most interesting games for young or old is to watch a savings account grow. You will have more fun watching your savings account grow than anything else that comes your way. Try having a savings account and keep it moving upwards; we are pleased to accept accounts in amounts of $1. or more. The Citizens National Bank, 133 Pittsburgh street.—Adv.

Licensed to Wed.

Charles Smith of Fairmont and Alice Smith of Conneltsville, Michael Lombardo of Conneltsville, and Rosie Imperato of Tower Hill, were granted marriage licenses in Uniontown Saturday.

Lord Decies Sues for $25,000 Damages And Says Builders Swindled Him Sadly

LORD and LADY DECIES. COPYRIGHT BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

LONDON, July 21.—The suit for damages brought by Lord Decies against a firm of builders whom he charges with conspiring with architects and surveyors to defraud him out of several thousands of pounds in the rebuilding of his house, Sefton Park, prior to his marriage in 1911 to Vivian Gould, is now on trial. It is understood that Mrs. George Gould, mother of Lady Decies, is urging her son-in-law to fight the matter to the end.

MRS. MCCLINTOCK DIES
Widow of Veteran Street Car Conductor Had Long Been Ill.

Mrs. Narcissa McClintock, 68 years old, widow of Andrew McClintock the veteran West Penn conductor who died May 9, died Saturday afternoon at the family residence at Leisenring No. 1 following a lingering illness. Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the house. Rev. McCall, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Leisenring No. 1, officiated.

Mrs. McClintock was a daughter of Huey and Mary Anne Kerns and for many years resided at Leisenring No. 1. She was one of the most widely known residents of Dunbar township. She had been confined to her home for some time and her death was not unexpected by her relatives and friends. She married Andrew McClintock who for several years was conductor at Leisenring No. 1. No children were born to the union.

DIES AT BREAKNECK
Mrs. Helen M. Breakneck is a Victim of Complications.

Mrs. Helen M. Breakneck, 26 years old, wife of Edward Breakneck, died last evening at the residence of her father-in-law, B. E. Breakneck, at Breakneck, of a complication of diseases. Funeral from the home Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock followed by services at the Mount Olive Church at Breakneck.

Deceased was a daughter of George B. and Mary M. Hutchinson of Uniontown and was a member of the Central Christian Church of Uniontown. In addition to her husband, she is survived by children, Melvin B., four years old, and Harold M., two years and six months old. Two sisters, Mrs. Mary Helmick and Miss Virginia Hutchinson of Uniontown, and a brother, Herschel Hutchinson of Youngwood, survive.

DIES OF PARALYSIS.
Mrs. Alice Mitchell Succumbs at Home Near Ohlappes.

Mrs. Alice Mitchell, 92 years old, wife of J. A. Mitchell, died yesterday morning of paralysis at her home about three miles from Ohlappes. She had been ill for several years. Funeral tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 from the house. Interment in the Mitchell cemetery.

Mrs. Mitchell was a daughter of James and Mary Hager Dixon and spent all her life near Ohlappes. In addition to her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Leonard of Ohlappes, and Miss Martha Mitchell at Conneltsville. Deceased had relatives in Conneltsville and Uniontown.

WILLIAM STAUFFER BURIED.
Funeral Services are Held for Aged West Side Resident.

John Bailey, Joseph Metzger, J. J. Mitchell, John Cable, S. E. Penn and Charles Hatfield, deacons of the First Baptist Church, served as pallbearers at the funeral of William Stauffer, held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of A. B. Stauffer on Third street, West Side.

Rev. William Nelson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. R. C. Wolf, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, officiated. Among the out-of-town persons who attended were Mrs. Minnie Campbell and Mrs. J. L. Stenz of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Myrtle Reiderick of Dravosburg.

Infant is Dead.
John F. Schenck, a one-year-old son of T. G. and Ethel Maple Schenck, died yesterday at the family residence on Franklin street. Funeral from the house tomorrow morning at 2 o'clock. Interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Young Man Drops Dead.
Arthur Mills, 21 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mills, died of heart failure last evening at his home at Helen. He was born at Dunbar and for the last six years was employed by the Atlas Coal Company at Helen.

It Will Pay You
To read our advertising columns.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Fitch.

To read our advertising columns.

We Give J. N. Green Stamps.

W. N. LECHE

106 W. Main St., Conneltsville.

Our Great July Shelf Emptying Sale

LASTS JUST ONE WEEK MORE.

This store is replete with good things. Don't put off until all are gone. COME TODAY.

LADIES' TAILORED SUITS ½ PRICE.

Linen Toweling Reduced.—Large size 121½c
Huck Towels.....10c

Ladies' and Children's Hosiery reduced. Ladies' and Men's Underwear reduced. One lot Percales reduced. Apron Gingham reduced. And hundreds of other items space forbids mention.

Ladies' Long Coats and Top Skirts at ½ and ¼ Off—These come in Blue, Black and Brown Serges and Grey Mannish Effects

We give S. & H. Green Stamps with every purchase.

Pennsylvania Railroad

SIXTEEN-DAY EXCURSIONS

July 24, August 7, 21 and September 4, 1913.

Atlantic City, Cape May,

Asbury Park, Long Branch

FROM CONNELLSVILLE

Tickets at the lower rate good only in coaches. Tickets at the higher rate good in Parlor or Sleeping Cars in connection with proper Pullman tickets.

Special Train of Parlor Cars and Coaches Through to Atlantic City

Tickets good for passage on Special Train or on trains leaving Pittsburgh at 4:55 P. M., 8:30 P. M. (Coaches only), and 8:00 P. M. (Sleeping Cars only), and their connections.

For leaving time of special and regular trains, stop-over privileges, and full information consult nearest Ticket Agent, or E. Tungman, Division Passenger Agent, Room 212 Oliver Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Rapid Vacuum Washer Coupon.

Monday, July 21, 1913.

Present this Coupon at The Counter office with 5 others of consecutive dates and

98 Cents

and get this $3.50 Rapid Vacuum Clothes Washer.

NAME.....

P. O. ....

"A Perfect Woman Nobly Planned To Warn, to Comfort and Command"

Nature never intended woman to be delicate, ailing, or a sufferer from "nerves." Women in middle age complain of "hot flashes." Many women suffer needlessly from girlhood to womanhood, and from motherhood to middle life, with backache, or headache, dizziness, faintness, or bearing-down sensations. For a permanent relief from these distressing symptoms nothing is so good as

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

as a soothing and strengthening nerve—alays and subdues nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, and other distressing symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the female system. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

The "Favorite Prescription" is known everywhere and for over 30 years as the standard remedy for the diseases of women. Your dealer in medicines sells it in liquid or tablet form; or you can send 50 cent stamps for a trial box of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription tablets. Address Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

2 IN 1 SHOE POLISHES

Black—Tan—White

Easiest to use

Best for all shoes

F. F. Dole Co., Ltd. Buffalo, N. Y.

10 CTS

FOR THE WORKINGMAN SOUTH CONNELLSVILLE LOTS ARE BARGAINS.

The News of Nearby Towns.

INDIAN CREEK.

INDIAN CREEK, July 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dulland family of Mount Pleasant, who have been spending a week at the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Blam near Mill Run, returned to their home today. They enjoyed their visit very much.

The Baltimore & Ohio work train is unloading business cars of the 100-pound steel rails to be laid on the out-bound track over the viaduct here.

A. P. Doorley left for Scottsdale to spend over Sunday with friends.

R. H. Adams of Uniontown, who has been spending a week with his family at Davistown, left for Uniontown today.

Mrs. Alex Hood and children of Connelville, left for Killbuck Park today to spend over Sunday. Mr. Hood will join his family this evening.

John Curry of Connelville, is along the Indian Creek Valley today on business.

Harry Carpenter and family of Connelville, left for Reading Run today to spend their summer vacation in the mountains. They will stop at the Foust House.

The following from Mill Run are Connelville business callers today: Frank Shindler, Frank Koser and Glen Frankhouser.

The Mill Run baseball team left for Confluence today, where they will cross bats with the Confluence boys.

Mrs. J. W. Buckow of Rogers Mill, is shopping in Connelville.

H. I. Fisher spent last night at the lumber camp at Reading Run on business.

W. S. Fought, who has charge of the gate house and general overseer of the Mountain Water Supply reservoir, was here on business today.

Mrs. Samuel Matthews of Jones Mill, returned home today, after a few days' visit to relatives at Mount Nebo.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stimmel returned home today, after a week's visit at Killbuck Park, Pa. Mr. Stimmel spent most of his time angling for bass.

L. L. Fish spent last night in Connelville to have an arm dressed. He is getting along fairly well.

Warren Younklin was a business caller in Connelville last night.

J. L. Freese, the Baltimore & Ohio water man, spent a short time here on business between trains.

J. L. Barnes, local superintendent for the Mountain Water Supply Company, spent today along the Indian Creek valley and at the reservoir on business.

Charles F. Hood was here a short while this morning on business.

Aaron Ridenour of Mount Nebo, is a Connelville business caller today.

The Baltimore & Ohio had a small freight wreck about two miles east of here yesterday evening, blocking the west-bound tracks for four hours. Connelville tool cars were needed to clear the track. Train No. 49 was delayed over one hour on account of the accident.

Mrs. George Dull and son, George, spent a few hours here between trains last evening with the former's son, R. R. Dull.

SMITHFIELD.

SMITHFIELD, July 21.—Della Vance and sister Oval of Fairmont, W. Va. are the guests of O. S. Vance and family.

Charles H. O'Neill and wife of Point Marion, visited relatives in the borough Friday.

Mr. O'Neill was employed on the power dam at Cheat River as an engineer. Since the closing down of that project he has secured a position at a point between Butler and Franklin and will move his family to that place this week.

Mrs. Frank Lewis and children of Fairbank, are visiting H. J. Rankin and wife, Mrs. Lewis' parents.

Jerome Fordyce on his pre-nuptial made a brief stop in the borough Thursday. He said he had been invited to attend a reunion of the Griffith family in Nicholson township and was on his way there.

W. J. Rubie of Rubie, was transacting business in the borough Saturday.

J. H. Vance and son are erecting a barn and garage.

Charles Lewis of Springfield Furnace, was a borough business visitor Saturday.

L. B. Leech, aged 74 years, died at his home on Liberty street at 8:30 Friday evening from the effects of a cancer of the face with which he had been a long sufferer. The funeral took place from the house at 2 P. M. Sunday, Rev. G. A. Fulcher officiating.

Jerry Jones Post No. 541 G. A. R. of which the deceased was a member, participated in the service. All of his active life Mr. Leech had been an active worker in the church and Sunday school. Some two years ago he was awarded the prize (a gold medal) by the International Society of Organized Little Classes for giving the most correct answers to a list of questions taken from the Bible and propounded by his wife and one son W. S. Leech, cashier of the First National Bank of Smithfield.

Mr. Leech, cashier of the First National Bank of Smithfield, a number of grand and great grandchildren and a host of friends who appreciated his worth as a citizen deplore his loss.

SOUTH CONNELLSVILLE.

SOUTH CONNELLSVILLE, July 21.—Edward Durr of Jeannette, spent Wednesday and Thursday at South Connelville.

Miss Rhoda Younklin of Evans Station, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Messmore Younklin.

George Harris and John H. Hason of this place are visiting friends at Jeannette.

Miss Edna Younklin of this place spent several days in Bradnock and McKees Rocks.

Miss Laura Grim and daughter, Mildred, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Christ of South Connelville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones of McKees Rocks, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nutter of South Connelville.

The Ripley Glass Company will start, after a two weeks' vacation, Norman Beckman of Pittsburgh, has returned to this place, after visiting his parents.

Ambassador Wilson Is Ordered to Washington for Conference on the Troublesome Situation in Mexico.

HENRY LANE WILSON

CONFLUENCE.

CONFLUENCE, July 21.—Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Fox and little daughter who have been visiting Mrs. Fox's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Groff, for some time, left for their home at Conchohook, Pa., Friday.

Work on the new cold storage plant is being hurried forward.

W. H. Zuffall and H. E. Furbough, two of Harpennville's leading citizens, were business visitors in town recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Mountain have left for their home in Iowa after visiting the former's brother W. S. Mountain and family for several weeks.

Miss Florence Johnson is visiting friends in Youngstown, Pa.

H. P. Burnworth, manager of the Humbert store, at Humbert, was a business visitor here Saturday.

Samuel Lakot, a well known lumberman of Addison, was here Saturday on his way to Pittsburgh on business.

C. E. Youngley has drilled a well to a depth of 175 feet. The flow not being satisfactory he has decided to continue drilling.

W. H. Kimmelt of Drakestown has secured the contract for delivering oil for the Atlantic Refining Company. The company's new tanks will soon be completed.

Mr. Zimmerman and family arrived here from Pittsburgh Saturday and will camp on the Hanna farm for several weeks.

E. F. Miller of the West Side, is ill with typhoid fever.

Dr. H. L. McIntyre, a B. O. medical examiner, of Connelville, was here Saturday on his way to Friendsville on business.

Messrs. Marcellus and Charles Burnworth, farmers of Johnson Chapel, were among those who visited town on business Saturday.

J. B. Coughenour, a B. & O. engineer of Connelville, a former resident here, was greeting friends in town a few days last week.

E. W. Debolt of Charleston, who has been on the sick list for several days, visited town on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Crow of Uniontown, have returned home after visiting the latter's sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Sellers at the Confluence.

Mr. and Mrs. William Reeves, two residents of Humbert, were in town the last of the week transacting business.

E. C. Rowley, a well known farmer of near the Jersey Church, was in town Saturday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Downs and daughter Minnie, have returned from a visit with Mrs. Downs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Downs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Shank of Oakland, Md.

Milton Clark, the baker, who has been very sick for several days, is much improved.

DUNBAR.

DUNBAR, July 21.—Mrs. James Ready of Bradnock, spent Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Annie Kelly, who is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Duncan and son William visited friends at Uniontown Sunday.

Mrs. Annie Carrigan of Greensburg, is spending a few days with her sister Mrs. John Cartwright of Connelville street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Gels were shopping Saturday evening in Connelville.

G. H. Swearingen was a Uniontown caller Sunday.

Harvey Wilhelm of Dickerson Run, was calling on relatives here Sunday.

Evans Williams left today for Johnstown where he will visit relatives for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Mary McCarty of Kittanning, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Groshen, of Bryson's Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy—Porter of Fairchance, spent Sunday at the home of his mother Mrs. Kate Porter of Speers Hill.

John Cartwright the well known painter, suffered a slight stroke Friday night.

William Bunting and son Charles and William Fisher of McKeesport, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bunting.

Mrs. Lee Hoover of Connelville, visited Mrs. Helen Jacobs Sunday.

Mrs. H. C. Bunting of Speers Hill, is the guest of her daughter Mrs. I. N. Houshington of Perryopolis.

Joseph Bunting arrived home Saturday from McKeesport with a new automobile.

Mrs. Ida Wilson of West Lefeburg, was the over Sunday guest at the home of her father Berth Warman.

C. E. Gaddis was an Ohlyole visitor Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hunt of Uniontown visited the latter's parents Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Critchfield.

Miss Margaret Reynolds returned to her home in Uniontown Sunday evening after spending a couple of weeks' visiting her grandparents.

Mrs. L. A. Marshall and sister Annie were shopping in Scottsdale Saturday.

Dr. W. W. Warner was in Mount Braddock Sunday on professional business.

VANDERBILT.

VANDERBILT, July 21.—Mrs. F. E. Oslevie and daughter, Miss Stella, were visiting relatives in Ruffalo Saturday.

J. F. Beatty of Whitsett, was visiting his family here over Sunday.

Mrs. Scott Osborne was a recent Pittsburgh caller.

Miss Angelina Martin was a business caller Saturday.

Marshall Lomas of Bradnock, is spending a few days at his home here.

Ross Hipple of Glensport is visiting friends in town for a few days.

Misses Anna Lewis and Lizzie Madden were Connelville callers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kelley spent Sunday in Dunbar.

Miss Bess McLaughlin, Mrs. A. A. Anson, Mr. A. A. Anson and Mr. A. M. Snyder spent Sunday with relatives at Flatwoods.

Miss Anna Morrow of Star Junction, was calling on friends in town last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Popovich of Connelville, was calling on the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mulac.

Miss Pearl Snyder, who has been confined to her room with appendicitis, is able to be around again.

John McFarland of Connelville, was calling on Vanderbilt friends Saturday evening.

Mrs. S. J. Tucker, Samuel and Nell Tucker of Pittsburgh, are spending a few days with Mrs. W. J. Reed.

Miss Lottie Arison of Flatwoods, was calling on friends Saturday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Carl Horner were calling on the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Oslevie.

Miss Ella Roselle of Uniontown, is spending a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Roselle.

WANTS $2,000 For Coal. Anna Lewis, of Vanderbilt has brought suit for $2,000 against James C. Beatty, also of Vanderbilt. It is claimed by the plaintiff that the defendant, without her knowledge, mined about 1,000 bushels of coal from under her property in Vanderbilt.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND

MECCA
CIGARETTES

"The Envy of All Cigarette Manufacturers"

The enormous sale of MECCA is your cue. Forget the price and look for quality. Millions of critical smokers swear by MECCA.

Judge MECCA any way you please.

5¢

Perfect Satisfaction

$5.75
TO
Niagara Falls
AND RETURN.
FROM CONNELLSVILLE

Saturday, July 26, 1913
EXCURSION TICKETS

good going on trains leaving Pennsylvania Station, Pittsburgh, 9.00 A. M., 1.10 P. M. and 10.45 P. M., and their connections, and good returning on regular trains until July 30, inclusive.

SIMILAR EXCURSION AUGUST 16.
Consult Ticket Agents

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

BALTIMORE & OHIO
SEASHORE EXCURSIONS FROM CONNELLSVILLE TO

ATLANTIC CITY

Cape May, Sea Isle City, Ocean City, Stone Harbor, Wildwood, Rehoboth.

JULY 31, AUGUST 14 and 28, SEPT. 11, 1913.

Tickets Good Returning 16 Days.

SECURE ILLUSTRATED BOOKLET GIVING FULL DETAILS FROM TICKET AGENTS, BALTIMORE & OHIO RAILROAD.

For Sale

OUR TIME, knowledge and experience in the printing business.

When you are in need of something in this line

DON'T FORGET THIS

BALTIMORE & OHIO
EXCURSION TO
Oak Park
W. Va.
AND RETURN
SUNDAY, JULY 27

Round Trip $1.00 From Connelville

Special Train Leaves at 8.00 A. M.

J. B. KURTZ,
NOTARY PUBLIC
AND REAL ESTATE.
No. 3 South Meadow Lane.
Connellsville, Pa.

ONLY NET RESULTS COUNT

A firm may do a tremendous business and not be making a cent—
A man may receive a very large salary and not be worth a penny—
Only net results actually count in estimating profits.
A Savings Account, opened with this strong bank and added to regularly will help you to show "net results" from your occupation. It's better to save even a few cents a week than to labor without actual profit from your work.

4% Compound Interest.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

"The Bank that Does Things for You."
129 West Main Street, Connellsville, Pa.
Steamship Tickets Foreign Money Orders
All Languages Spoken

Efficient Service and Courteous Treatment

Has enabled us, within the past year, to double the number of our customers. Quite a number of persons and societies, with surplus funds, who do not want to tie up their money subject to the rules of regular 4% account are taking advantage of our special 3% accounts. If you are a customer at this bank you will always find us willing to extend any reasonable accommodation on satisfactory security.

Our Customers Always Receive the Preference.

If you have a little ready money it will pay you to open an account with us, become acquainted, and take advantage of our service.

The Colonial National Bank
CONNELLSVILLE, PA.
Corner Main and Pittsburgh Streets.
4% interest paid on Certificates and Time Deposits. Foreign Department equipped to give the best of service.

Patronize Those Who Advertise.

FORCE OF HABIT.
The Heary—At last I am alone.
The Comedian—Hi! Get off that track. That's a trolley headlight, not a spotlight.

Judicious Spending

In saving money much depends upon economy and it behooves one to buy judiciously.

Start an account with the Title & Trust Company of Western Penn'a. and acquire the habit of regular deposits.

4% INTEREST PAID ON SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Title & Trust Company

of Western Penn'a. Connellsville, Pa.

Oldest Savings Bank in Fayette County.
Capital and Surplus $425,000.00.

$3.50 RAPID VACUUM CLOTHES WASHER 98c

The Daily Courier

Is Going to Show Its Usual Public Spirit by Giving to Its Readers the Most Wonderful Labor-
Saving, Money-Saving, Time-Saving & Fuel
Saving Device Ever Offered to the Public
A BENEFACTOR TO THE WOMEN

Coupon on Page 2.

Compressed Air Does the Work

An Easy Wash Day--No Boiling-- No Rubbing

No longer do you have to spend hours over the wash tub, no boiling, therefore no odors, it simply does away with drudgery. The Rapid Vacuum Washer is the most wonderful device ever offered the housewife, because it does away with the hardest work a woman is called to do and makes washing as easy as any other household work.

Start Cutting Your Coupons Today

Do not let another wash day go by without having one of these vacuum washers in your home. The Courier has made it extremely easy for every woman to get one of these washers. All you have to do is to clip six coupons from The Daily Courier and present them at this office with 98 cents and receive a vacuum washer that will be worth to you many times the price you paid for it.

It Means No More Dreaded Wash Days

With hot water, melted soap, a tub and a vacuum washer, wash day will have no terrors for you. You can wash the finest fabrics in the same tub with ordinary white clothes, with no possible injury. You do not have to rub or boil your clothes for three or four hours and then rub until your hands are worn out. Simply put your clothes in hot soapy water and use the vacuum washer as directed and you will have the cleanest and whitest wash and a wash day you never thought possible.

Come In and See This Wonderful

Vacuum Washers that will save your clothes, save your time, save your hands and save you back from many aches caused by bending over the wash tub. It will wash everything that is washable. Come in and look it over. It must be seen to be appreciated.

Every Vacuum Washer Absolutely Guaranteed

SIX COUPONS AND 98 CENTS FOR THIS RAPID VACUUM CLOTHES WASHER

Sent by Parcels Post for 8 Cents Additional

It Pays to be a Reader of The Courier

HE COMES UP SMILING

By Charles
Sherman

Illustrated by Ray Walters

CHAPTER IV.

And When I Dine.

Henrietta turned aside with her guest.

"I noticed by the papers that you always make it a point to spend Sundays in the country somewhere near New York, so that you can return quickly in your car. I suppose that you really need the rest and quiet for your week's work."

"I never work when I can rest," said the Watermelon truthfully.

"That's right, that's right," agreed the general, "but between a desire to talk to the phenomenal young financier, who in one night had set New York all agog, and to avoid a smash-up with the stone walls on either side of the road, 'Men are altogether too eager to make money'."

"Yes," said Henrietta. "Everything nowadays is money, money, money." "Then remembering your guest was, she added quickly, "I think it is splendid in your getting away from it all and spending one day a week in the country, close to nature. They say that stockbrokers are never happy away from the Street."

"But I am not a stockbroker," explained the Watermelon, with his candid, boyish smile. "I'm a lamb."

Henrietta laughed. "But not indeed," said she gaily.

"Not yet," admitted the Watermelon, wondering if William Hargrave Batchelor was still enjoying his swim. "What you want to do, now that you have made your pile," advised the general, as the machine swerved dangerously near a tree, "is to leave the Street at once. Invest your money in U. S. government bonds and buy a place in the country."

"You don't like the country yourself, father, except in the summer," objected Henrietta.

"That's all right, my dear, but when a man has three millions invested in government bonds, he does not have to spend all of his life in the country. Your last deal brought you three millions. I believe the papers said."

"Three, ten," chuckled the Watermelon.

"Ah, yes," sighed the general. "Money is power and every man wants power. The general was old, without the time, training or opportunity to make money, while this long-legged youth with the ridiculous woman's eyes, sat on the back seat and babbled lightly of millions as the general could hardly do of thousands."

"Ah, yes, three millions. Have you ever lived in the gallery?"

"Oh, off and on," said the Watermelon.

"I suppose you are fond of it or you wouldn't come up here every Sunday," went on the general, misreading the Watermelon.

"You Will Dine With Us."

He wall on the right by a fraction of an inch. "Do you care for fishing?"

"If the bites ain't too plentiful," Henrietta laughed. "You can't do it, Mr. Batchelor," said she.

"Do what?" asked the Watermelon, leaning forward. The Watermelon never lacked self-assurance under any circumstances, and before a pretty girl it merely grew in adverse ratio to the girl's years and in direct ratio to her good looks. Henrietta was not pretty, but she had charm and grace and good breeding, and a combination of the three sometimes equals prettiness.

"Make us believe that you are as busy as you are trying to."

"If I can't do it, I won't try," laughed the Watermelon. "But you can't do it, either."

"Do what?"

"Make us believe that you are the general's daughter," returned the Watermelon, holding his voice full, gently and softly.

"Don't I look like him?" asked Henrietta, wishing that she had not made the conversation quite so personal this early in their acquaintance.

"You look like him," admitted the Watermelon, "but—"

Henrietta laughed faintly. "You wouldn't take me for his sister, would you?" she questioned, fearing he would say yes. William Hargrave Batchelor had spent his youth paddling papers and blacking boots. A frank disregard for all social graces and hypocrisies was doubtless one of his most pronounced characteristics.

"For his granddaughter," said the Watermelon.

"Of course," said the general aloud. "Maine has fine shooting in winter."

"None of Maine for mine," declared the Watermelon conclusively. "Maine is a prohibition state."

The general frowned. "You don't drink, I hope, young man?"

"Drink," said the Watermelon, making Henrietta think unreasonably of a minister, "drink causes a psychological condition which each man should experience to obtain a clear insight into the normal condition of the mind." He paused impressively and Henrietta felt almost compelled to say "Amen," for what reason she did not know.

"But," added the youth in the solemn tones of the benediction, "when I get—ill, I like to do it on whisky and not poison."

The general, who had intended a scathing reply, and firm but gentle counsel to lead back to the narrow path this promising young man bowered on the brink of ruin, with all his glorious possibilities, found himself agreeing.

The car had reached the top of the steep hill, and suddenly left the trees, the narrow, woodland road, with the columbine and wild roses nodding at them from the underbrush, and swept out on to a wide, wellkept driveway, with smooth rolling lawns on each side and a majestic white building as a crowning glory on the top of the hill.

Grandview did not belie its name. High on the topmost ridge, it looked over valley and woods and streams, beyond to farther hills, peak after peak, range after range, fading into a blue shadow against the sky. It was a big, square, garish building, gaunt and unlovely among its lovely surroundings.

It was the dinner hour and in the country there is never any need to urge one to the table. So, save for a man and a girl waiting on the steps, there was no one in sight.

"There are the Batchelors now," cried Henrietta as the train of cars approached the porch. "Poor dears, we have kept them waiting."

"I wonder," said the Watermelon, "why a guy always gets so hungry on Sunday?"

"Nothing else to do," suggested Henrietta, "but eat."

The car stopped and she started to alight, but the Watermelon was before her, offering his hand with a graceful bow of absolute unconsciousness of self.

"Alphonse can take your car to the garage and fill it with gasoline," said the general.

"Aw, don't bother," protested the Watermelon.

"Tush, tush, man, it is no bother," and the general turned to the coldly respectful Alphonse.

Henrietta had started toward the steps and the Watermelon turned to follow her, when he saw her standing on the top step, looking straight at him across Henrietta's shoulder. His first impulse was to stand and stare, his second, to turn and run back to Mike and James and his old clothes his third which he followed blindly was to stumble forward but in hand not from any respect for woman in the abstract, but just for her, her tiny feet, her small white teeth, her dimple. She would not come up to his shoulder by at least six inches, she was very slender, and in her high waisted yellow frock, she seemed a mere wisp of a girl. Her hair and eyes were brown, her cheeks flushed like the petals of a rose.

She had a little smile that brought a single dimple in one soft cheek. Her hat was a big, flapping affair covered with butterflies and daisies.

The Watermelon, gazing at her, forgot everything. Henrietta's dinner, the general. He stared and she stared back. The brown suit with the pale green stripes and the faint suggestion of red, lent an undeniable improvement to the broad shoulders and long limbs of the graceful Watermelon.

The admirable shaven and hair-cut village barber had given him in exchange for his own quarter, revealed the square-cut chin and the good-natured, careless mouth of the born no-rd-do-well. Under the brim of the soft, expensive Panama were his woman's eyes, now tragic and unhappy, for who was he but a tramp, a frequenter of the highways and back streets, an associate of James and Mike?

"Billy," said Henrietta, "we have had an adventure and picked up another guest. Miss Bartlett, Mr. Batchelor."

"Wore you part of the adventure?" asked Billy, holding out her hand.

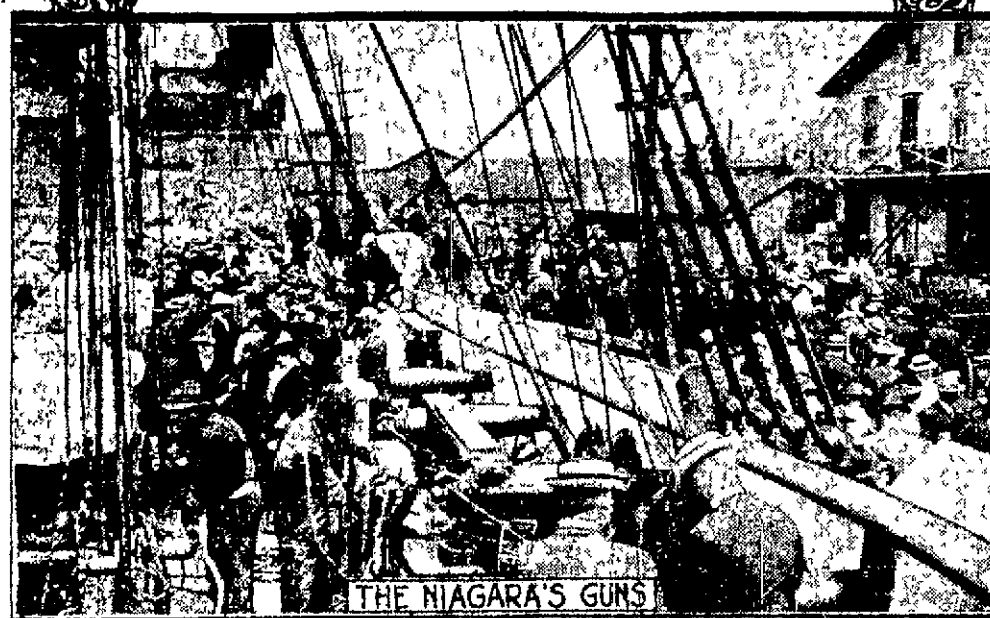

"Yes," said the Watermelon, incapable of further speech.

Henrietta presented him to Mr. Bartlett, a stout, red-faced gentleman of middle age. Wealth, success, self-complacency radiated from him like the rays of the sun. He grasped the hand, brown hand of the Watermelon and looked the young man up and

Perry's Flagship Niagara is Making a Tour of the Great Lakes to Take Part in Celebrations of War of 1813

LAUNCHING THE NIAGARA

THE NIAGARA'S GUNS

ERIE, Pa., July 21.—The Niagara, launched from the hull of the old-time flagship of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry which won the battle of Lake Erie September 10, 1813, left this port for a diport where the second week of Perry's victory centennial will be celebrated. For ten hours the Niagara lay just outside of Erie harbor, at almost the exact spot where Perry's fleet was grounded a century ago. The ship was to have sailed from Erie Saturday, formally closing the Perry celebration in this city, but owing to a heavy sea the start was delayed.

Replied by the United States training ship "Ship 1" the Niagara was towed by the United States training ship down, noticing the pin in his tie, the Panama and the silk socks without seeming fairly to notice the man.

"William Hargrave Batchelor," he murmured questioningly.

"The same," answered the general thoughtfully, feeling that he had done something praiseworthy in capturing the young man. He drew off his gloves and beamed at the Watermelon.

"He is a young one to beat us, Bartlett. We ought to be ordered."

Bartlett's eyes gleamed as he shook the Watermelon's hand with renewed pleasure. "Youth," said he oratorically, "is hard to beat, General, but we aren't dead yet. I have had an occasional try at the Street, myself, Mr. Batchelor. You may have heard of me."

"Oh, yes," said the Watermelon absently, thinking of the girl with the single dimple and the turned up nose.

"Father took me, once," said Billy. "It was terrible. Are you a broker, Mr. Batchelor?"

"Haven't you read yesterday's papers, Billy?" exclaimed Henrietta.

"I never read the papers," admitted Billy, with a charming smile. "Just the front page headlines, sometimes."

"He was there," laughed the general. "In high high print. He broke the cotton ring, my dear. The general's tone was full of reflected glory as the host of a great man."

"Oh, cried Billy, "that's where father lost so much. He told me this morning, just as we left the house."

Bartlett glanced sharply at the Watermelon and interrupted Billy with a laugh. "You get everything wrong, my dear," said he, "tweaking her ear. I said a good deal of money had been lost."

"But, papa," protested Billy, "you said—"

"Come to dinner, everybody, please," interrupted Henrietta, in response to an appealing glance from Bartlett. "I am starving whether you others are or not."

"We had better," cried the general, "for this young man has become a bear instead of a bull." He laid his hand affectionately on the Watermelon's shoulder and walked down the hall with it resting there.

CHAPTER V.

A Plan and a Telegram. The big cool dining-room, with tall palms and plants, snowy tables and gleaming silver, the crowd of well-dressed people, the talk and laughter, and the obsequious, hurrying waiters, was not a new experience to the Watermelon. For one short, painful week he had essayed to be a waiter and had finally even the folly of his ways and given up after he had broken more china than his wages, which were withheld, could cover.

His complete indifference as to what people thought of him made him directly at his ease, while his scattered wits were coming back with a rush and his colossal self-assurance was growing every moment he was in the society of the charming Billy.

"I was a hush singer once," said he, gazing at her across the table.

Her small nose wrinkled with pleasure and the single dimple flashed forth and was gone.

"That's right," said the general, who grew more fond of his guest with every passing remark. "Don't be ashamed of the past just because you have money now."

"You blacked boots, too, I believe," questioned Bartlett, the result of that unfortunate cotton deal he had participated in still rankling. "Quite interesting."

The Watermelon had care only for Billy. She spoke and it was as if the others had been silent.

"Was it fun?" she asked.

"Oh, yes," drawled the Watermelon sarcastically. "It was fun all right. Everybody wanted to be waited on, first and everybody wanted the white meat."

"What did they do when they didn't get waited on?" asked Billy.

"Yelled at me," said the Watermelon. "As if I was their servant. This in a free country and we are all equal. I said that to one old goat once and it raised Cain."

"What'd he say?"

The said that might be, but we didn't remain equal."

"What did you say?"

"I said, I know it and I'm sorry for you, sir. Don't blame yourself too much," I said. "Was it that did it?" When I left they didn't give me any pay."

"Why not?" asked Billy, eagerly amused.

"They said I had broken too many dishes. I said if I had known they were going to keep my pay, I would have broken twice as many."

I presume you return to the city tonight?" questioned Bartlett.

The Watermelon thought of the shivering wretch who was trying to hide his nakedness in the forest depths and shook his head. "I'm leaving about three," said he, putting the parting off as long as possible because of Billy. It hurt him to think of leaving her, even then, charming, dainty Billy.

"Tell me some other things you have done," teased Billy.

"I sat over that side," said the Watermelon with the boldness of desperation. "In two short hours they would part for good, so why not make the most of the short time allowed?"

"If I sat over that side, I could tell you so much better the sad, sweet story of my life."

"Come on," laughed Billy. And the Watermelon rose, to the amusement of those nearest, went around the table and drew up a chair beside Billy, with the general on the other side of him.

Henrietta made vain attempts to take a hostess with the boldness of desperation. In two short hours they would part for good, so why not make the most of the short time allowed?"

"If I sat over that side, I could tell you so much better the sad, sweet story of my life."

"Come on," laughed Billy. And the Watermelon rose, to the amusement of those nearest, went around the table and drew up a chair beside Billy, with the general on the other side of him.

Henrietta made vain attempts to take a hostess with the boldness of desperation. In two short hours they would part for good, so why not make the most of the short time allowed?"

"If I sat over that side, I could tell you so much better the sad, sweet story of my life."

"Come on," laughed Billy. And the Watermelon rose, to the amusement of those nearest, went around the table and drew up a chair beside Billy, with the general on the other side of him.

Henrietta made vain attempts to take a hostess with the boldness of desperation. In two short hours they would part for good, so why not make the most of the short time allowed?"

"If I sat over that side, I could tell you so much better the sad, sweet story of my life."

"Come on," laughed Billy. And the Watermelon rose, to the amusement of those nearest, went around the table and drew up a chair beside Billy, with the general on the other side of him.

Henrietta made vain attempts to take a hostess with the boldness of desperation. In two short hours they would part for good, so why not make the most of the short time allowed?"

"If I sat over that side, I could tell you so much better the sad, sweet story of my life."

"Come on," laughed Billy. And the Watermelon rose, to the amusement of those nearest, went around the table and drew up a chair beside Billy, with the general on the other side of him.

Henrietta made vain attempts to take a hostess with the boldness of desperation. In two short hours they would part for good, so why not make the most of the short time allowed?"

"If I sat over that side, I could tell you so much better the sad, sweet story of my life."

Wolverine of Erie in command of Captain William L. Morrison. The Niagara is carrying a crew of 12 men. A six-inch line 600 feet long is being used to tow the Niagara. Officers in command expect no difficulty should the little fleet meet with storms as and is said to be thoroughly seaworthy.

In the crash on the Street which had broken the cotton ring and had brought a comparatively young and hitherto unknown man into prominence, Bartlett had lost more than he cared to think about. Though his name had not appeared, he had been heavily involved. The ring had needed but a week a day, more to bring it to perfection, then in a night, from whence hardly a soul knew, having worked quietly, steadily, persistently, this unforeseen factor had arisen and defeat stared the ring in the face. Another week would bring complete collapse unless this William Hargrave Batchelor could be suppressed. Clearly he had no price, preferring to fight to a finish, which was an admirable quality in one so young, but hardly to be desired in an opponent who unfortunately had every chance to win. Voluntarily, he would not leave the fight, but if he could be suppressed? The following Saturday was the crucial time. If he did not return until the day after?

Bartlett had left the city late the previous afternoon to spend Sunday with Billy away from the heat and worry of the scene of battle, and here was William Hargrave Batchelor apparently doing the same thing. Clearly it was a disposition of Providence. There was Billy, and after all William Hargrave Batchelor was young and human. He had probably never known girls like Billy before, or dined with them as equals. He certainly had made no attempt to hide his admiration for this particular one. Bartlett chatted gaily with Henrietta and watched the two opposite, trying to decide if it would be possible to kidnap the young man for a week, take him away from Wall Street at any cost. Were Billy's charms equal to the attempt?

William Hargrave Batchelor was said to be a cold, hard-headed youth, who had risen by sheer grit and determination to the place he now held, riding roughshod over his own and every one else's desires and pleasures. A calm, imperturbable young man, with cruel, keen eyes, the papers described him. Watching him across the table, Bartlett decided that his collapse unless this William Hargrave Batchelor could be suppressed. Clearly he had no price, preferring to fight to a finish, which was an admirable quality in one so young, but hardly to be desired in an opponent who unfortunately had every chance to win. Voluntarily, he would not leave the fight, but if he could be suppressed? The following Saturday was the crucial time. If he did not return until the day after?

Bartlett had left the city late the previous afternoon to spend Sunday with Billy away from the heat and worry of the scene of battle, and here was William Hargrave Batchelor apparently doing the same thing. Clearly it was a disposition of Providence. There was Billy, and after all William Hargrave Batchelor was young and human. He had probably never known girls like Billy before, or dined with them as equals. He certainly had made no attempt to hide his admiration for this particular one. Bartlett chatted gaily with Henrietta and watched the two opposite, trying to decide if it would be possible to kidnap the young man for a week, take him away from Wall Street at any cost. Were Billy's charms equal to the attempt?

William Hargrave Batchelor was said to be a cold, hard-headed youth, who had risen by sheer grit and determination to the place he now held, riding roughshod over his own and every one else's desires and pleasures. A calm, imperturbable young man, with cruel, keen eyes, the papers described him. Watching him across the table, Bartlett decided that his collapse unless this William Hargrave Batchelor could be suppressed. Clearly he had no price, preferring to fight to a finish, which was an admirable quality in one so young, but hardly to be desired in an opponent who unfortunately had every chance to win. Voluntarily, he would not leave the fight, but if he could be suppressed? The following Saturday was the crucial time. If he did not return until the day after?

Bartlett had left the city late the previous afternoon to spend Sunday with Billy away from the heat and worry of the scene of battle, and here was William Hargrave Batchelor apparently doing the same thing. Clearly it was a disposition of Providence. There was Billy, and after all William Hargrave Batchelor was young and human. He had probably never known girls like Billy before, or dined with them as equals. He certainly had made no attempt to hide his admiration for this particular one. Bartlett chatted gaily with Henrietta and watched the two opposite, trying to decide if it would be possible to kidnap the young man for a week, take him away from Wall Street at any cost. Were Billy's charms equal to the attempt?

William Hargrave Batchelor was said to be a cold, hard-headed youth, who had risen by sheer grit and determination to the place he now held, riding roughshod over his own and every one else's desires and pleasures. A calm, imperturbable young man, with cruel, keen eyes, the papers described him. Watching him across the table, Bartlett decided that his collapse unless this William Hargrave Batchelor could be suppressed. Clearly he had no price, preferring to fight to a finish, which was an admirable quality in one so young, but hardly to be desired in an opponent who unfortunately had every chance to win. Voluntarily, he would not leave the fight, but if he could be suppressed? The following Saturday was the crucial time. If he did not return until the day after?

Bartlett had left the city late the previous afternoon to spend Sunday with Billy away from the heat and worry of the scene of battle, and here was William Hargrave Batchelor apparently doing the same thing. Clearly it was a disposition of Providence. There was Billy, and after all William Hargrave Batchelor was young and human. He had probably never known girls like Billy before, or dined with them as equals. He certainly had made no attempt to hide his admiration for this particular one. Bartlett chatted gaily with Henrietta and watched the two opposite, trying to decide if it would be possible to kidnap the young man for a week, take him away from Wall Street at any cost. Were Billy's charms equal to the attempt?

William Hargrave Batchelor was said to be a cold, hard-headed youth, who had risen by sheer grit and determination to the place he now held, riding roughshod over his own and every one else's desires and pleasures. A calm, imperturbable young man, with cruel, keen eyes, the papers described him. Watching him across the table, Bartlett decided that his collapse unless this William Hargrave Batchelor could be suppressed. Clearly he had no price, preferring to fight to a finish, which was an admirable quality in one so young, but hardly to be desired in an opponent who unfortunately had every chance to win. Voluntarily, he would not leave the fight, but if he could be suppressed? The following Saturday was the crucial time. If he did not return until the day after?

Bartlett had left the city late the previous afternoon to spend Sunday with Billy away from the heat and worry of the scene of battle, and here was William Hargrave Batchelor apparently doing the same thing. Clearly it was a disposition of Providence. There was Billy, and after all William Hargrave Batchelor was young and human. He had probably never known girls like Billy before, or dined with them as equals. He certainly had made no attempt to hide his admiration for this particular one. Bartlett chatted gaily with Henrietta and watched the two opposite, trying to decide if it would be possible to kidnap the young man for a week, take him away from Wall Street at any cost. Were Billy's charms equal to the attempt?

William Hargrave Batchelor was said to be a cold, hard-headed youth, who had risen by sheer grit and determination to the place he now held, riding roughshod over his own and every one else's desires and pleasures. A calm, imperturbable young man, with cruel, keen eyes, the papers described him. Watching him across the table, Bartlett decided that his collapse unless this William Hargrave Batchelor could be suppressed. Clearly he had no price, preferring to fight to a finish, which was an admirable quality in one so young, but hardly to be desired in an opponent who unfortunately had every chance to win. Voluntarily, he would not leave the fight, but if he could be suppressed? The following Saturday was the crucial time. If he did not return until the day after?

Bartlett had left the city late the previous afternoon to spend Sunday with Billy away from the heat and worry of the scene of battle, and here was William Hargrave Batchelor apparently doing the same thing. Clearly it was a disposition of Providence. There was Billy, and after all William Hargrave Batchelor was young and human. He had probably never known girls like Billy before, or dined with them as equals. He certainly had made no attempt to hide his admiration for this particular one. Bartlett chatted gaily with Henrietta and watched the two opposite, trying to decide if it would be possible to kidnap the young man for a week, take him away from Wall Street at any cost. Were Billy's charms equal to the attempt?

William Hargrave Batchelor was said to be a cold, hard-headed youth, who had risen by sheer grit and determination to the place he now held, riding roughshod over his own and every one else's desires and pleasures. A calm, imperturbable young man, with cruel, keen eyes, the papers described him. Watching him across the table, Bartlett decided that his collapse unless this William Hargrave Batchelor could be suppressed. Clearly he had no price, preferring to fight to a finish, which was an admirable quality in one so young, but hardly to be desired in an opponent who unfortunately had every chance to win. Voluntarily, he would not leave the fight, but if he could be suppressed? The following Saturday was the crucial time. If he did not return until the day after?

Bartlett had left the city late the previous afternoon to spend Sunday with Billy away from the heat and worry of the scene of battle, and here was William Hargrave Batchelor apparently doing the same thing. Clearly it was a disposition of Providence. There was Billy, and after all William Hargrave Batchelor was young and human. He had probably never known girls like Billy before, or dined with them as equals. He certainly had made no attempt to hide his admiration for this particular one. Bartlett chatted gaily with Henrietta and watched the two opposite, trying to decide if it would be possible to kidnap the young man for a week, take him away from Wall Street at any cost. Were Billy's charms equal to the attempt?

William Hargrave Batchelor was said to be a cold, hard-headed youth, who had risen by sheer grit and determination to the place he now held, riding roughshod over his own and every one else's desires and pleasures. A calm, imperturbable young man, with cruel, keen eyes, the papers described him. Watching him across the table, Bartlett decided that his collapse unless this William Hargrave Batchelor could be suppressed. Clearly he had no price, preferring to fight to a finish, which was an admirable quality in one so young, but hardly to be desired in an opponent who unfortunately had every chance to win. Voluntarily, he would not leave the fight, but if he could be suppressed? The following Saturday was the crucial time. If he did not return until the day after?

Bartlett had left the city late the previous afternoon to spend Sunday with Billy away from the heat and worry of the scene of battle, and here was William Hargrave Batchelor apparently doing the same thing. Clearly it was a disposition of Providence. There was Billy, and after all William Hargrave Batchelor was young and human. He had probably never known girls like Billy before, or dined with them as equals. He certainly had made no attempt to hide his admiration for this particular one. Bartlett chatted gaily with Henrietta and watched the two opposite, trying to decide if it would be possible to kidnap the young man for a week, take him away from Wall Street at any cost. Were Billy's charms equal to the attempt?

William Hargrave Batchelor was said to be a cold, hard-headed youth, who had risen by sheer grit and determination to the place he now held, riding roughshod over his own and every one else's desires and pleasures. A calm, imperturbable young man, with cruel, keen eyes, the papers described him. Watching him across the table, Bartlett decided that his collapse unless this William Hargrave Batchelor could be suppressed. Clearly he had no price, preferring to fight to a finish, which was an admirable quality in one so young, but hardly to be desired in an opponent who unfortunately had every chance to win. Voluntarily, he would not leave the fight, but if he could be suppressed? The following Saturday was the crucial time. If he did not return until the day after?

Bartlett had left the city late the previous afternoon to spend Sunday with Billy away from the heat and worry of the scene of battle, and here was William Hargrave Batchelor apparently doing the same thing. Clearly it was a disposition of Providence. There was Billy, and after all William Hargrave Batchelor was young and human. He had probably never known girls like Billy before, or dined with them as equals. He certainly had made no attempt to hide his admiration for this particular one. Bartlett chatted gaily with Henrietta and watched the two opposite, trying to decide if it would be possible to kidnap the young man for a week, take him away from Wall Street at any cost. Were Billy's charms equal to the attempt?

description fairly well, but that the eyes were a complete contradiction. They were neither keen nor cruel, but soft and mild and sleepy. The whole face was careless, indifferent, and if it were not for the jaw, Bartlett would have hardly believed it possible that Batchelor was sitting opposite him. His own jaw snapped and he swore to himself that he would keep him for a week, either through Billy or otherwise. So strong is the power of suggestion, it did not enter his head to question the youth's identity.

They were rising from the table now. The general, having dined to his satisfaction, was beaming with good humor and stories. Excusing himself a moment, Bartlett hurried to the telephone station in the office. He hunted for his code, but could not find it and had to write the telegram in English. It would be safe enough. The operator was a raw country youth who wouldn't be able to understand it anyway, and it would go direct to his broker, who would be spending the day

